Welcome to Žilina.

Looking at Žilina from a bird's eye view, you will find that it lies in the northwest of Slovakia, in the Žilina Basin, at the confluence of three rivers – the Váh, the Kysuca and the Rajčianka. Since the early Middle Ages (the territory of the town was first documented in 1208), Žilina had all the prerequisites to become the metropolis of northwestern Slovakia. Thanks to a convenient location – at the crossroads of trade routes – Žilina has always been linked with development of trade and industry and so it is today.: Žilina is a dynamically developing modern town, where a friendly atmosphere, full of colours and aromas will impress you immediately. In short, it is a vibrant town... We invite you to visit Žilina, so that you can see its uniqueness with your own eyes. The town centre does not occupy a large area. It is possible to get from one end to the other in a few minutes and still have time left to enjoy the atmosphere in the streets, the stylish cafés, restaurants and teahouses. Enjoy your stay!

How to reach Žilina

By train

Railway station is situated just in the centre of Žilina, 400m from the ice rink. The best way how to get to ice rink is to walk or take the taxi. The railway connections can be checked at: <http://www.zssk.sk/en>
